

FICTION GOOD TO REST THE MIND

Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., a prominent educator, addressed the students of Brownson hall, Notre Dame, Tuesday evening, concerning books and reading. Father O'Donnell has read papers at many conventions of National Education associations during the past five years and is a man well acquainted with books. He discussed books and reading from the aspect of "Books as Representing Opportunities."

In opening his talk, Father O'Donnell cited an incident he had experienced of an Indiana train. He told of meeting a young Negro porter who was reading "Lincoln, the Boy and the Man." Although the porter was but 16 or 17 years old he was a victim of tuberculosis, but in spite of this handicap, was spending all his spare time in reading and studying. The speaker then pictured the brilliant vista, free from obstacles, that lies before the college men and he urged his hearers to take inspiration from the heroism and ambition of the poor negro.

Father O'Donnell resolved his discussion into these questions: "Do you read books?" and "What books do you read?" In speaking of newspapers and magazines he said that these forms of literature did not produce the mental development one could obtain from books. "Fiction," went on the speaker, "is all very well to read in moderation, but to read it to excess is ruinous." He referred to good books as the greatest of riches and spoke of The Apostolate of Religious Reading, a library in Brownson hall, as one of the most unique educational libraries in the country. In closing, Father O'Donnell reminded his hearers that their only handicap is indolence and a lazy disposition and that they should copy the example of the Negro porter and of his ideal, Abraham Lincoln, in order to stir their ambition to read useful books, for books and reading are the foundations of intellectual life.

Father O'Donnell is associate editor of the Ave Maria magazine. He is also a gifted poet and a prose writer of note, being the author of a critical essay on Francis Thompson, the greatest poet of the latter half of the 19th century.

SCOFFED AT BIBLE WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Levey Powell Williams in superior court Wednesday, declared her husband, Thomas D. Williams, did not believe in the Bible, scoffed at religion, and got drunk. On those grounds she asked for a divorce. Acting Judge Woodward, however, held the evidence was insufficient to support her charge of criminal treatment.

Mrs. Williams, a volatile Negro woman, admitted that she married Williams, who is her second husband, "just to have a companion." Their difference on religion, however, shattered the companionship. She testified Williams thought she had a fortune of at least $5,000, with which he was planning to build a house, and declared that his love cooled when he learned differently. She admitted she entertained the idea that he was a man of some means before she married him, but some means before she married him, but some means before she married him, but some means before she married him.

"He said the Bible was written by some fellow who didn't have anything else to do, called all the preachers rascals and said there was no God or devils except what was in ourselves," declared Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Williams said she owned two pieces of property but had nothing near $5,000. "If I had had much, never would have married him," she said.

MAKE CITIZENS AT 12 AN HOUR RATE

United States citizens were being manufactured at the rate of about one in five minutes in circuit court Wednesday when the hearings of 95 applicants were being conducted before Judge Funk by Martin Sturges, chief of the naturalization bureau in Chicago.

Hungary was represented by the largest number who pledged allegiance to the United States. Russia, Poland, Germany and Sweden were also represented.

The examination yielded the usual number of humorous answers, due in great measure to the unfamiliarity of some applicants with the English language. In several cases where a lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of United States government were revealed the petitions were continued and the applicants instructed to "read the constitution" and get posted.

One of the applicants insisted that the council made a law for the United States and another said the circuit court was the chief man in the state of Indiana. Another in reply to a question on who elects the president, answered "George Washington."

Here is a list of those who had obtained certificates of citizenship on Wednesday morning: Joseph Sabo, Mike Ersol, Patrick O'Shea, Alexander Bokor, Wojciech Kasmierczak, John G. Anderson, Louis Nagy, John Ozych, Steve Demeter, A. M. Ogren, Andrew Dombos, Max Schlegel, Ernst Schlegel, Joseph Szabo, Andrew Bella, Alex Kocsis, Louis Horvath, Vincent Motiarice, Frank Lassig.

SOUTH BEND MAN IS ACCUSED OF FORGERY

A man giving his name as George Morgan and his address as South Bend is being held at Elkhart on a charge of forgery. Morgan was arrested Tuesday night after attempting to pass two checks, one for $19 and a second for $50. Police authorities were notified here but wired back that no one by that name is known here.

According to report from Elkhart, Morgan purchased different articles of wearing apparel at the Warren Hill clothing store in Elkhart and then gave a check for $19, said to have been endorsed by South Bend Street Commissioner James Butler. No suspicion was aroused until it was noticed that the number of the check was unusually large. He was closely questioned and appeared to tell a connected story.

He was, however, followed and went to the Shafer & Schult cigar store. Here it was learned he had attempted to pass a check for $50, but was turned down. The police were then called and the man was arrested when he was about to board the 6 o'clock interurban car for South Bend. At the station he was searched and several other checks being found on his person. He refused to talk when questioned.

COUPLE ACCUSED OF CLOTHES THEFTS

Lieut. Joseph L. Wier and Wife are Placed on Trial at Cheyenne, Wyo. —Capt. Cecil Complainant.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19.—The trial of Second Lieut. Joseph L. Wier of the 18th infantry, U. S. A., and his wife, Mrs. Mildred de Armond Wier, charged jointly with the theft of gowns valued at $500 from the wife of Capt. J. S. Cecil of the 18th infantry, U. S. A., while the Wiers were occupying the Cecil's quarters at Fort MacKenzie, Wyo., a year ago, was begun here Tuesday in the United States district court.

The opening of the defense came after Judge J. A. Riner denied a motion to quash the indictments against the Wiers.

The troubles between Wiers and the Cecils began last spring with an indictment by the federal grand jury here. Lieut. and Mrs. Wier were arrested at Houston, Tex., and upon examination before a United States commissioner there, Mrs. Wier was compelled to give bond for her appearance here before the district court and Lieut. Wier was discharged.

On Lieut. Wier's appearance here on Saturday with his wife, he was rearrested on the original indictment.

SAILORS ARE HELD ON MUTINY CHARGES

Cup of Coffee and Two Crackers Was All They Were Allowed a Day.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 19.—Twenty-one sailors, members of the crew of the bark Manga Reva, were held in $2,000 bail each to answer charges of mutiny after a hearing Tuesday before U. S. Commissioner Mehauffey. Samuel Smobohn, second mate, and Otto Tangert, cook, were held in $500 bail each as witnesses.

Smobohn testified Tuesday that cruelty and scarcity of food and water caused the men to rebel on Oct. 25 while the vessel was several hundred miles at sea enroute from Philadelphia to San Francisco. Only two buckets of drinking water were supplied the crew each day, he said. A cup of coffee at 4 o'clock in the morning and two crackers apiece in the afternoon was the entire food supply for the day, he averred.

POLICE CLAIM THEY HAVE LINE ON BOYS

Youths Who Chopped Off Finger of Arthur May Be Arrested Soon.

ELKHART, Ind., Nov. 19.—Through information furnished by playmates of little Arthur Uhl, who was cruelly assaulted last Saturday, the police believe that they have a clew which will lead to the arrest of the culprits, according to statements made by Mrs. Uhl by officers.

The little fellow was able to be about the house Tuesday. He stoutly maintains that his story is correct despite reports to the effect that the injury was sustained while he was meddling with machinery in a machine shop in the neighborhood.

Through neighbors, Mrs. Uhl learned that one of Arthur's boy friends had declared that he knew "who the fellow was that hurt Arthur but that he wouldn't 'squeal' on him." She immediately notified the police, and it is their intention to compel the boy to tell what he knows.

HOLDS LAW DOESN'T GIVE EQUAL CHANCES

Act For Sterilization of Criminals and Other Classes is Held Unconstitutional.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 19.—The supreme court of New Jersey Tuesday set aside as unconstitutional the act of 1911 providing for the sterilization of epileptics, the feeble-minded, criminals and other defectives. A test case was instituted in the court before the law was carried into effect.

The supreme court holds the law in question was based upon a classification that bore no reasonable relation to the object of police regulation and that it denies to the classes so selected equal protection of the laws.

Title Insurance Like Fire Insurance

A Title Insurance Company will not insure a title that may cause any trouble, any more than a Fire Insurance Company will insure a building that is more than likely to burn. It does not, however, require that a title be perfect any more than a Fire Insurance Company requires a building that it insures to be fire proof. As the owner who does not insure his buildings takes the risk of loss by fire, so also does the risk of having trouble from an imperfect title.

To prevent any such trouble have the INDIANA TITLE AND LOAN CO. insure the title to your property and be assured that you are as safe from loss as when your buildings are insured against fire.
